REPORT.

The schools of our town for the year 1890 have, we think, been fairly successful. As far as practicable, we have employed home talent for teachers, believing that in this way we shall encourage our scholars to fit themselves for teachers, and thus maintain the reputation of our town as the nursery of some of the best teachers in New England. We have also endeavored to retain continuously the services of desirable teachers. Unfortunately, our means are not sufficient to enable us to compete with larger and wealthier towns, and consequently our schools suffer from the loss of valuable teachers. It has been our aim to give each scholar in town as near as possible equal advantages for schooling, and although it is impossible for all scholars to be equally accommodated as regards distance from school-houses, we think the advantage of attending larger and more interesting schools will compensate for the inconvenience.

The furnishing of free text-books has greatly increased the duties of the Board of Education and the teachers, but has taken a great burden from the shoulders of the parents, and well repaid extra work and expense in the fact that a perfect uniformity of books has been established, and that every pupil has had all the books needed. Both parents and teachers should impress on the scholar the importance of keeping books neat and clean.

The average expense for books for each scholar has been $1.58, which will not be but slightly increased for the next four years.

After careful consideration of the merits of the different series of school text-books, we decided upon the following list of books, which are the only series authorized to be used for the term of five years, and cannot be changed during that time. They are, we think, standard books, substantially bound, and were procured upon very favorable terms :

New Franklin Readers.
 Modern Speller.
 Greenleaf's Arithmetics.
 Butler's Geographies.
 Raub's Grammars.
 Eggleston's Histories.
 Brand's Physiology.
 Meservey's Book-keeping.

Our school registers show far too many tardy and absent marks. This can and should be remedied. Both parents and scholars are to be blamed for this. It is not the tardy scholar alone who is injured, but the teacher, the class, and the whole school are disturbed and confused by the entrance of the tardy ones. It is to be regretted that parents are not more interested in our schools. By visiting the schools and in other ways encouraging the teachers, they could do much to make the schools successful.

We think it important that a moderate insurance should be at once placed upon our school-houses, and that whenever they are opened for any purpose they should be in the care of a responsible person, who should see that the books, furniture and other property of the district is properly protected, and that the school-room is left in a neat and orderly condition.

It is always desirable, and often necessary, that the Board of Education have easy access to the records of the district. We would recommend that the office of clerk of the district be filled by the election of one of the Board of Education, and thus remedy what is at times a great inconvenience.

There are several of our school-houses that should be immediately repaired. The appropriation generously voted by the town last year has, we think, been wisely and economically expended. The Brown Hill school-house has been thoroughly rebuilt, and is practically a new house, and is as much a credit to the town as the old one was a disgrace.

The houses at Bow Mills and the Lower Bog have been newly shingled, and repairs that were urgently demanded have been made on the other houses in town. The houses in the Woodbury and the River Road districts are old, dilapidated, and uncomfortable, and should be thoroughly repaired. Several houses are without suitable outbuildings demanded by common decency, and the deficiency should be at once supplied. Several houses should be painted, and certain other repairs made as a matter of economy.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

CENTER DISTRICT. Frank Grafton had the charge of this school and succeeded well, considering the discouragements under which he labored. If all the parents of children of this district felt a more lively interest in the education of their children and see that they were regular attendants at school, it would inspire the teacher with courage, and add essentially to the interest of the school. Those scholars who were regular in attendance made good progress in their studies and seemed thorough in them at the examinations.

DISTRICTS NOS. 3 AND 8.

BAKER AND WHITE DISTRICTS. These schools were taught by Hattie A. Saltmarsh, who had previously taught several terms in this district. She is a faithful, conscientious teacher, the scholars were quiet and orderly, and marked progress was made. The Register was neatly and perfectly kept. Irvin H. Grey is a remarkable fine scholar and deserves especial mention.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

This school has been under the instruction of Miss L. J. Wheeler. Her previous reputation as a teacher has been fully sustained. School a decided success in all respects. A new school house is needed in this district, as the old one is very poor; and it is to be hoped that in the near future a new house will be erected.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Taught by Maggie M. Short. The school appeared well at each visit of your committee. The examination showed good improvement had been made.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

This school has been in charge of J. C. Hammond, who has won renown as a teacher ; and it is sufficient to say that success crowns his labors wherever he teaches. Some of the scholars in this school are sharp. A new school house has been built this year, which was very much needed.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

Summer term taught by Miss E. Burroughs, who labored hard for the success of her scholars, and improvement was made.

Fall and winter term taught by Miss Lizzie A. Hammond. This was her first experience teaching, yet the classes made good progress, and the management of the school was good in every respect.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Spring and fall terms were taught by Miss Julie Clough. This was her first attempt, and we think with experience she may become a successful teacher.

Winter term of eight weeks was taught by Miss Nellie J. Colby of Goffstown, who succeeded as well as could be expected with so small a school.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

Fall and winter terms were under the instruction of Miss Lura M. Dean. As regards her qualifications, we think she ranks well, but her faculty for governing large scholars is not sufficient.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

Frank Grafton had charge of the spring term, and the scholars from No. 2 attended, making only six ; and no teacher can be expected to make great progress with that number of scholars.

DISTRICT NO. 14.

BOW MILLS. The summer and fall terms were taught by Martha A. Putney, a teacher of considerable previous experience. After some disturbing elements had been eliminated, the discipline, which had been for several terms rather lax, was fully restored. Miss Putney is a thorough, hard-working teacher, and succeeded in awakening a lively interest, particularly among the younger scholars. Very much to our regret, she felt compelled to resign her position four weeks before the close of the term.

It being difficult at that time in the season to engage an experienced teacher for so short a term, the remaining four weeks were taught by Eva M. Colby, one of the older scholars, continuing as near as possible the same methods of her predecessors. The school appeared well, and, as far as we know, general satisfaction was given.
